St. Joseph's College of Law

St Joseph's College of Law has been approved by the Bar Council of India (BCI), New Delhi and is affiliated to Karnataka State Law University (KSLU), Hubballi.

The College was established in the year 2017. It has given students an opportunity to study various aspects of Indian and International legal principles and jurisprudence. Our endeavour is to see that the students are equipped with sound ethical principles while acquiring legal knowledge.

While the college admits students without distinction of gender, caste and creed, preference is given to students who hail from the minority communities and women who are traditionally underrepresented in the legal profession. The college also admits students from other professional backgrounds who intend to take up law as a second profession.

This college provides a great opportunity for those who are interested in learning legal principles for an academic and legal career and those who want to fight for justice in the society

VISION

To transform the lives of people by effecting a society based on justice, equality, peace & harmony.

MISSION

- To train competent, ethically sound and committed lawyers.
- To train professional graduates capable of integrating knowledge of legal theory, practical skills, and professional values.
- To sensitize law students to the various socio-legal issues of the country.
- To prepare students for leadership roles through interaction with faculty, mentors and the community at large.
- To channelize talents of the faculty and student body towards rendering community service.
- To provide facilities for teaching, research, service and community development.
- To provide a dynamic and challenging environment for pursuing high - quality learning to achieve excellence.

COURSE OFFERED

LLM (2 Years) Course in IPR - Intellectual Property Rights: The duration of the programme is two academic years consisting of 4 semesters.

ABOUT LLM

St Joseph's College of Law, Bengaluru offers a Two-Year LL.M. Degree Programme. The LL.M. programme is organized around two semesters every academic year. The programme is offered with an interest to attract intellectually curious and thoughtful candidates from a variety of legal systems and backgrounds and with various career plans. Besides lectures a masters programme in law would require students to conduct in-depth research in a particular area of law, so that students acquire a comprehensive understanding of that area. A master's degree in law will equip students to pursue careers in academia, research, legal practice, and judicial services. The College uses an interdisciplinary approach to legal studies, with a dynamic, flexible curriculum that appeals to a range of interests, taught by leading scholars also seek to foster an encouraging and supportive learning environment.

LEARNING ENVIRONMENT

Library

The library resources are constantly updated with current publications. It has a large collection of text books, reference books and multimedia, which are continuously updated with the latest editions. The college subscribes to national and international periodicals, databases and online journals. Students can access online databases, journals and catalogues of library. The digital section of the library provides collection of full text of documents and faculty publications. There is ample reading room space both inside as well as outside the library.

Moot Court

In order to become a successful legal professional, it is essential for a student to know how to apply the law to actual situations and to have awareness of the rules and the etiquettes of the Court. The Moot Court Society of SJCL actively organises various mooting events for students throughout the year. Our students have represented the College at national and International Moot competitions, trial advocacy competitions and client counselling events.

Research

The Research Committee aims at strengthening research initiatives both inside and outside the College. Workshops, journal publications, seminars, conferences are organised on a regular basis to promote, hone and encourage research culture amongst the students.

Counselling

Personal and non-academic counselling is provided by a trained counsellor to help and motivate the students. A full time counsellor on campus helps to maintain and enhance the psychological, emotional and relational wellbeing of the students. Consultations with the counsellor are treated with sensitivity, care and confidentiality.

Lecture and Seminar Hall

The spacious lecture and seminar halls are equipped with the latest audio-visual facilities for an enhanced learning experience. Seminar halls, which accommodate large groups at a time are used often for seminars, group discussions and for guest lectures from industry and academia experts.
